RSpec Spectra License Key

By installing RSpec software, you gain access to an amazing online resource that helps you analyze any type of astronomical spectrum. This software allows you to analyze and visualize the gas line position for any telescope in real-time, and you can do so with 4 different line markers. This simple software can be very helpful when teaching/studying how the positions of the gas tube spectra line as a function of distance, as well as their rates of change. RSpec is also a great tool for educational outreach as it can be run locally (on your desktop or laptop) and you can collect and analyze data without the need for a server. As such, RSpec is a powerful astronomical spectroscopy software tool for both research and education. Dec 27, 2020 RSpec makes astronomical spectroscopy easy.. Perpetual license: $109..
