I'm having a little trouble with this exercise. The question is "Find the number of 2-cycles and transpositions in the following simple example." And the solution I was given is "No. of transpositions = 4, because this permutation can be rewritten as: 1 2 3 4 1 2 3 4 1 2 3 4 Thus, it contains two transpositions." This is my solution. I'm having some problems understanding how can there be two transpositions. What does it mean that there are two transpositions? Can anyone help me understand? Thanks. A: You can think of a permutation as a single line of numbers. The numbers make up a sequence, and every permutation can be represented in this way. Given your example, we have: 1 2 3 4 1 2 3 4 1 2 3 4 which is equivalent to: 1 2 3 4 1 2 3 4 1 2 3 4 The first three are two cycles, and the last is 2692ce491b
