( see section 3.1) Super Slime Invader in the Camp Apr 17, 2017 It's been a few weeks since I have been taking this blog seriously and for good reasons. My dear friend Laura has just about two weeks away from making a big announcement and I have been trying to figure out exactly when she's going to tell us. Laura knows me too well and she usually comes and tells me when she is going to tell me. But this time I have been thinking and mulling over the topic a bit longer than usual. In the mean time, I have been taking some time away from working on my online business (although I've been working on the business more than usual). I've been trying to figure out what the deal is. Laura has been putting off this topic for a long time and I am starting to get a little worried. So I decided to check things out and I found out that the following is true. Are You Ready For The Announcement? Yes you are. You have been for a while now. The day this blog started was the day you knew it was going to happen. You just knew that it was going to happen. You knew it the first time I shared this post with you. I put some big thoughts in the title and I know you were thinking about it. I said you would be the first to know and you were. We are all going to know in the next few weeks. I would have been more than happy not to share this information but I am so excited about it. I have been trying to get this post out so that we could all take action on it. I am really happy that Laura is going to be able to explain it to the world because it means that people can get out of this mess that they are in d4474df7b8
