The display is not packed, I am pretty sure it is still on its old shelf. Picked it up for around $1, it was on sale. The display stands about 30" tall, made of cardboard, the picture was cut and sanded to have an overall look as close to the originals as I could. There was a picture in the middle of the cardboard, saying there would be like 100 different types of puffer fish, and I did get to see 4 types, a Benthopelagic, a Triassic, an Indonesian and a Cambodian. The puffer fish were a special edition, and the only things that came in a bag was the cardboard, I am not sure, but the cardboard was cut to fit the plastic bag, and then the puffer fish were stuffed in them. The bag was cheap though, they wouldn't let me get it, they said it was outside the return policy. The lids were pretty simple, they were attached to the box by a slot of it's own that could only hold 4. The sizes were all the same. Each lid would have a picture on it that would say which type of puffer fish it was, they were also pre-printed. They were all cheapo lids, but they fit great, they are a tad on the side though. There was just a big label that said "Jungle" underneath the lids. It would have been a pretty awesome display. The sides were also cheapo lids, but they were great. There was even a picture on them about the history of puffer fish on the box, and under that was a picture of a pouch fish, it was about half the size of a normal puffer fish. The display was so cool, and I was so sad that I got out of there, and didn't buy the display. I wish I had. It would have been awesome. P
