Add, Remove or rename MACROs for the Collection. An MACRO is a small piece of embedded binary code (syntax) used to define or control a specific operation. In this project we have created our MACROs in LabVIEW. SMS Collection Commander Version 1.6 or higher is required. The easiest way to install SMS Collection Commander is to download the.zip file and extract it to any of your drive. The next thing you need to do is setup the path variable in the collectioncommander.ini file. This file is located in the folder that you just extracted the project to. In this case the collectioncommander.ini file is located in the same folder as the.exe file of the project. The first thing we need to do is open the collectioncommander.ini file. This file is used to set your active directory credentials for the SMSSpy.Net API. The main thing to set is the user name and password of the current user account. This account will need to be in the administration group of the collection. This can be done by going into the Sysman group in Active Directory and then clicking on the "security"-tab and adding the user you wish to add to the collection. The next step is to set the collectionname. You can edit this name if you wish. By default the collectionname is set to the name of the directory the collection is in. This can be changed if you wish. Once the collectionname has been set you can proceed to add the collection to SMS. This can be done by going into the SMS collection and then clicking on the add collection link. Set the directory that you want to add the collection to then select the collectionname you have created. The next step is to add clients to the collection. This can be done from either the SMS collection or a specific client. This can be done by going into the SMS collection and then clicking on the add client link. In this window you can add both the account and proxy server to the collection. You can select the account and proxy server from your SMSSpy.Net Client. You will be asked if you wish to add the account and proxy server to the collection. The last step is to set the collection run agent. This is the agent that will be used to start the collection when it is first configured. The settings for this agent are based on the actions that we have set in the collectioncommander.ini file.
