This article presents a survey of the frequencies of occupational accidents in the radiology department. Data are available from the Annual Statistical Report of the Supreme Court of Denmark, the Annual Statistics on Medicine and the Annual Statistical report on the University of Copenhagen, and the author has therefore not been able to obtain the rates of accidents or the most relevant factual information. There has been a marked increase in the number of accidents since 1986, when the Health and Safety Act came into effect, and accidents have been reported to be becoming more severe. This has to be taken into account when drafting the safety and radiation protection regulations that are designed to reduce the number of accidents and the effects of accidents if they occur.package
