FIFA 22 Review Next generation soccer game FIFA 22 will bring a number of new features to the series. The core gameplay is still the best in sports video games, and FIFA 22 has a lot of big gameplay updates that build on the previous instalment. The game has a host of new and improved features, but there are also some features that are not very satisfying. FIFA 22 brings with it an overhaul of the football pitch, as it's now more responsive and has a new camera. The field size has been increased in FIFA 22. The new dynamic pitch manages not only the pitch size, but also how quickly it reacts to player movements. The camera can now move to the spot an opponent gets in and again, the pitch reacts much quicker than in past games. The pitch has a similar level of control in how it reacts to player movement, and provides much more accurate reactions to attacking and defending. The core gameplay of FIFA 22 has also been rebalanced. Ball control is much better in this game than it has been in previous FIFA installments. The on-field battles are much more visible and very quick, and tackles work much better in this game than previous games. Due to these extensive changes, FIFA 22 is more than simply an upgrade over the last game. It feels different in almost every way. The new touchscreen control system is the best thing about the game, as you can now perform all your goals while your team mates just need to send a short message, and your opponent will need to slide the ball to you. If you have a PS3, then you have to take advantage of FIFA 22's next gen enhancements. Even if you don't, you can still play this game, but you will run into some hiccups along the way. The

It worked fine and has played over 3000 matches for a great deal of money.. This is the version he is playing now. Before buying the game and with the exception of I think two or three days this was the best user friendly EA sports game there ever was. I have always been a major fan

What's new:

- New camera viewing angle. Turn on or off all typical camera views and choose whether your view should change at all during gameplay.
- New Real Player Motion (RPM) camera effect. The popular RPM camera effect has been moved to a new location of "Camera Settings" (tab on the main menu). When turned on, the camera will change depending on the actions of the player in the game, such as position. RPM can also be tuned and customised to any player in the game.
- New goalkeeper auto slide. In this update, the "Auto Slide" feature in FIFA 18 has been reimagined, and is now much more intuitive for new and experienced users.
- New FIFA 18 Pro-Tips, available in the Pro Chat window. These football learning tips are tailored to your game, and will provide a great way to improve your play on the pitch.
- New goalkeeper saves. Make Goalkeeper saves count. Improved goalkeeper logic helps make saves increasingly difficult to score against you.
- New goal celebrations. Shout your team's goal scoring record or use a special celebration to mark a player's milestone.
- New pre-match preparations. Build your squad, activate training camps, improve Team Tactics, or share with friends.
- Bonus Cards - Added a variety of spin-off FIFA Ultimate Team Packs featuring FIFA Ultimate Team bonus cards, in addition to new Skill Packs and Seasons Packs.
- Achievement Unlocked - Available in Career Mode, you unlock various Achievements in the game as you progress.
- Game Preparation - This menu option allows the user to improve or rebuild a team, as well as the localization of the Home Menu.
- Photomatch - Adds an special photo mode, which allows you to edit photos in the game and create a portrait-style summary video to share with a friend.

- Safeguarding - Now goalkeeper AI can prioritize defending their penalty area in a penalty shootout.
 - Tactics Center - In this menu, you can manipulate placement of your players, as well as adjust formations and team tactics.
 - Trials - Revamped career mode training, offering a greater range of participating clubs, and other improvements.
