FIFA 20 introduced "First Touch Intelligence," which analysed player behaviour to predict the next 10 passes, while FIFA 18 introduced the ability to use "Top Speed," which enhanced playmaking in a way that the ball moves to players' feet more quickly. FIFA 19 was the first FIFA game to introduce a new, innovative ball AI - "Pass Markers." They replicate the physical characteristics of a top-class player with enhanced ball control. "When we looked at the way players use the ball, we discovered that as a player is starting a move, the positions of the ball are constantly changing," explained Matt Prior, Head of Prozone's Soccer Statisticians. "So, we needed a new approach to move control that could accurately capture ball movement in real-time. HyperMotion allows us to use motion capture data from multiple players playing on the pitch and use that to build up a highly-accurate model of the ball's movement." Team, Player and Crowd Visualisations FIFA 20 introduced "Trajectory Visualisation", which allowed fans to see the typical movement of a ball in and around the goal. FIFA 20 also included a new "Team Visualisation" and "Team Palette" that makes the look and feel of the game more realistic by reproducing the colours and shapes of players' kits and the stadium. "The new Team Visualisation also includes fully-animated logos, striking designs and the 'Rise to Greatness' display with all the teams in the 'Hexagram' formation," added Prior. New FIFA Ultimate Team Player Rating and Ratings Roles The new Player Rating system in FIFA 22 allows players to grow through their development, from The Beginner to the Pro, all the way up to the Master. The Player Rating can be used in the FIFA Ultimate Team (FUT) games and in-game Challenges. The Ratings and Ratings Roles allow players to gain attributes, which will improve their gameplay. Players can gain Attributes by completing Training Matches, Completing FUT games, and playing Challenges. These Attributes influence players' chances of scoring a goal and performing key defensive skills, such as headers, tackles, blocks, interceptions and crosses. FIFA 20 introduced

What's new:

- FIFA 22 introduces "HyperMotion Technology," which uses motion capture data collected from 22 real-life players playing a complete, high-intensity football match in motion capture suits. The data collected from player movements, tackles, aerial duels and on-ball actions is used to power FIFA 22 gameplay.
- New single-player Career Mode includes a reworked Player Behavior System (PBS), giving you a new way to go from college to the pros.
- PassionDrive returns, including 29 new goals, 30 new solo freekicks, 22 new penalty videos and 40 new celebrations.
- A new In Season Squads mode lets you play one of three different squads from across the globe in a single game. Play as a defender, midfielder, striker, or goalie.
- Players add a new "look" modifier to their ball control to improve your passing range, and sensitivity while using the dribbling or shooting controls. These three look values now also apply to sprint and acceleration speeds. For example, if the sprint speed is set to intermediate, passing with the long and first kick will give you the medium look.
- The icon for changing tactics has been removed from the main menu. It has been moved to Game Options.

This map uses an updated engine. With the new maps we wanted to make sure that any of the supported formats were still playable with the new engine. We tested our old map in H1Z1 and it looked pretty good with some errors like weapon sway (which was mostly fixed), but it didn't really play correctly. If there was anything that we have changed in the new engine that we missed, please let us know and we will try and address it! Previous Version Info: Previous version is still available on all platforms, but due to the update, you
